PRESIDENT IN SHARP DEFENSE OF HIGH COURT

President Declares Attack Being Made Is an Assault Upon Liberties of U. S.

SEE INDIRECT METHOD

Attack Upon Courts First Step in Communistic and Socialistic Fight

Shanghai, (11 p. m.) Sept. 6.—A new intense attack by the Kiangsu troops was started in the Liuhu sector on the coast about 30 miles to the north-west, about 10 o'clock tonight, observers reported.

The strategy of the move was explained by a messenger who arrived here tonight with the first direct report from headquarters of the Kiangsu troops at Quinsan, about 35 miles west of here. He explained that General Chi's objective was Woo Sung at the entrance of Shanghai harbor, north of the city.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 6.—(By the A. P.)—President Coolidge called upon the American people in a Lafayette address here today to take a stand against "a deliberate and determined effort," which he said, "is being made to break down the guarantees of our fundamental law through a movement 'to limit the jurisdiction of our domestic courts.'"

Speaking at the unveiling of a statue to Lafayette, the President characterized the great Frenchman as "a true son of world freedom" and asserted that "this occasion is dedicated to freedom."

"The question is," he declared, "whether America will allow itself to be degraded into a communistic and socialistic state or whether it will remain an American state. Those who want to continue to enjoy the high estate of American citizenship will resist all attempts to encroach upon their liberties by encroaching upon power of the courts."

While devoting his address primarily to a defense of the United States Supreme Court, the President also drew a lesson from the French leader who "joined us in fighting for the maintenance and extension of our institutions," and proposed a policy of service in foreign relations.

He pleaded also for the abolishment of war hatred and assistance in the "restoration of the German people now shorn of militarism."

The Supreme Court

Referring to the supreme court, Mr. Coolidge said, "If its authority should be broken down and its powers lodged with Congress every minority body that might be weak in the public securities or unpopular in the public estimation, also nearly every race and religion has belief would find themselves practically without protection."

The President mentioned no names in connection with the attack he described against the supreme court. He characterized it as an assault upon the constitution with its purpose the confiscation of property and destruction of liberty.

Very little danger exists in open and avowed assaults upon individual freedom," he said, "it is more likely to be imperiled indirectly, perhaps with the avowed intention of protecting it or enlarging it."

Foreign Relations

In his discussion of foreign affairs, Mr. Coolidge said: "To be independent, to my mind, does not mean to be isolated."

There is no real independence save only as we secure it through the law of self-defense."

While avoiding entanglements he pointed out that the United States had pursued that policy in contribution to foreign charities; in counsel at the arbitration table in Latin America; in adjustment of war problems in Europe; in the Washington armament conference and in settlement of the reparations problem.

STATE SCHOOL BOYS BRAVELY RESCUE GUARD

Take H. W. Crawford, in Charge of Party, From Beneath Slough when Truck Turns

THREE ARE INJURED

Boys Rushed to Hospital Suffering from Serious Injuries Sustained Today

Mandan, N. D., Sept. 6.—Kenneth Fisher of Russell, N. D. sustained internal injuries and probably a fractured pelvis; James Jones of Rugby was badly shaken and bruised internally; Frank Thiefaul of Buford suffered a broken leg and H. W. Crawford, institution officer, owes his escape from death by drowning to the efforts of 13 boys this morning when a five-ton truck driven by Crawford and which was carrying the platoon of boys to the North Dakota State Training School farm went off a narrow grade and turned over in a slough.

The boys, all about 16 years of age, were rushed to a hospital and it will take sometime to determine the extent of their injuries.

Crawford, manager of one of the cottages at the training school, took 16 boys in a five-ton truck and started for the institution farm two miles away. In crossing a narrow grade, it is believed the steering mechanism broke and the truck was plunged in the slough.

Crawford was pinned beneath the truck in the slough.

The 13 boys who were uninjured, wading in water and slime up to their waists, went to Crawford's rescue, raised the truck and pulled him from beneath it about half-drowned. However, he soon recovered, and passing motorists rushed the boys to the hospital.

Charges Dems Caused Farm Depression

Washington, Sept. 6.—Secretary Wallace, in a statement made public by the Republican national committee, declared that the "plight of the farmers during the past four years was directly due to Democratic blundering and the unwise statesmanship which launched a 'systematic deflation of the farms' in 1920."

"In the late summer of 1920, members of the Democratic administration served notice that the price of farm products must come down," Secretary Wallace said. "War surplus was thrown on the market. Farmers were called on to pay their notes, thus forcing crops on the market. The word went out that agriculture must be deflated, and as prices began to drop through this pressure, buyers withdrew from the market except as hand to mouth measures, which added impetus to the decline."

"Democratic senators and representatives in congress and in important administrative positions have themselves been most unscrupulous critics of this ruinous democratic policy. The result of it all was that perpendicular drop in the price of farm products while the price of everything else remained high. The Democrats had given the farmers such a push into the valley of depression that it was six months after the Republicans came into power before the price drop could be checked."

Sen. Shipstead Hurls Charge Against Dawes

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 6.—Senator Henrik Shipstead, of Minnesota, declared in an address, here last night before a group of supporters of La Follette against with Brig. General Charles G. Dawes, Republican candidate for vice-president, that the issue of the campaign, "is the preservation of the fundamentals of the American system of government."

"But we charge," added the Farmer-Labor senator, "that Charles G. Dawes and men of his like are the very greatest enemies of these same fundamentals which he so virtuously claims to defend."

"General Dawes does not specify what he considers to be the fundamentals of the American system of government. Therefore we can assume that he means by that term such transactions as have been recorded by the Republican administration. We can assume that he means the transference of the naval fields to a large contributor to the Republican campaign funds in 1920. We assume he means the deflation of agriculture to the extent of 18,000,000,000 of dollars."

WINTER WHEAT YIELDS WELL

Farmers Near Mott Much Interested in Results

(Special to the Tribune)

Mott, N. D., Sept. 6, 1924.—Winter wheat of the "Kanred" variety yielded 24 bushels to the acre and weighed 64 pounds to the bushel, recently threshed on the O. C. Maerlein and Dick Chalmers farms. This wheat has been grown successfully in the vicinity for the past three years, having been introduced from South Dakota where it is highly recommended by the Experiment Station after several years of testing on demonstration farms. The seed has all been saved for distribution, and many farmers are planning on cutting down their winter wheat acreage and substituting winter wheat. Three pecks to the acre has been found sufficient as it stands vigorously, if planted early in September in clean stubble.

Nestos Cautions Against Change

A. Nestos of North Dakota, at a meeting of the Northwest Dairy exposition committee at the Minnesota state fair here.

Nothing other than well balanced agriculture will build prosperity on the farms of the northwest, Governor Nestos said. He called attention to the fact that the beef, dairy products and poultry of North Dakota during the past year have been of greater value than the entire small grain crop.

THREE JUDGES TO HEAR CASE

Next Step in the Hughes Electric Co. Case

The case in which the Hughes Electric Company appealed to the federal court from the decision of the railroad commission ordering in effect reduced rates in Bismarck will be heard by three United States judges. Judge Miller referred the case to Judge Sanborn of St. Paul to name three judges to hear the case as soon as possible after September 20. The first step is hearing the company's application for an interlocutory injunction. Should this be granted it is usual for a referee to be named to take testimony and report to the court. Such cases, involving the reasonableness of utilities, often are long drawn-out. Should the court deny the interlocutory injunction the rates would become effective. Judge Miller has granted a temporary restraining order, prohibiting the putting into effect of the rates until the case is heard.

NORTH CHINESE ARE DEFEATED DURING BATTLE

Army Is Repulsed in Its Attack Toward Shanghai, Announcement Declares

CHEKIANGS ATTACK

Launch Counter - Offensive Following Their Successful Defense at Night

Shanghai, China, Sept. 6.—(By the A. P.)—The invading northern forces of Chi Shieh-Yung were repulsed on two fronts, at Hwangtu, 15 miles west of here, and at Liuhu, 30 miles northwest of here, after an all-night battle with the Lu Wung-Hsiang forces defending Shanghai, according to announcement this morning from Chekiang headquarters.

After repulsing the attacking northern forces at Hwangtu, General Chang Tse-Ping, leading the forces in the Hwangtu sector, led a successful counterattack, forcing the opposition troops back to within two miles of Anting, a town 20 miles west of here, on the line of the Shanghai-Nanking railway.

A bridge on the Shanghai-Hanchow railway line, near the Lungwha arsenal, Chekiang headquarters, was blown up mysteriously during the night, cutting off communication through the lines on which supplies are sent up to the front held by the defense forces.

In the Hwangtu section the defending forces claimed an advance of six miles was made along the railway line beside the capture of two companies of the Kiangson division and some high officers.

Hand to hand fighting characterized the night battle which was carried on through the Liuhu streets and resulted in driving out of the northern troops according to the communique by the victorious Chekiang army. The Chekiang announcement added that no opposition troops were to be seen today between Liuhu and Kiatinghsien, the latter point being nearer to Shanghai.

GUNS BOOM SALUTE

Honors Given Fliers Which Usually Are Accorded Presidents, Rulers

Boston Airport, Sept. 6.—The American round the world fliers alighted safely here today at 2:09 p. m. and 2:10 p. m. eastern daylight standard time after a 125-mile jump from Mere Point, Maine.

The planes alighted in the following order: Lieut. Lowell H. Smith's craft leading; second Lieut. Leigh H. Wade and third Lieut. Erick Nelson in "The Chicago," "Boston 11" and New Orleans respectively. As they taxied to their moorings at the buoys off the official barge, anti-aircraft guns boomed the national salute of 21 guns, usually accorded only to Presidents of the United States and rulers of foreign countries.

Greeted by General

The six fliers stepped from a launch onto the reception barge at 2:40 p. m.

Major-General Patrick was at the water's edge to meet "his boys." He gripped Lieut. Smith by the hand and then led the airman up the steps to introduce them to the receiving committee.

Before the introduction, Lieut. Smith took a microphone from the hand of a broadcaster and said, while his mother listened in at Seattle, Washington:

"Hello folks. We are glad to be with you again."

General Patrick then introduced the fliers with the words:

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to introduce the men who made the first air flight around the world."

It was only six minutes after their arrival on the barge when they set foot on land of the Boston Airport.

As they started to walk off the barge there was an affecting scene as Gunnar Nelson, who had flown here from Dayton, Ohio, embraced his brother, Erick.

Nearly Hit Island

Speaking for a moment with newspaper men: Lieut. Erick Nelson who alone hopped into the fog that held back Lieuts. Smith and Wade on the jump to Iceland:

"Glad it is over, practically. We almost pulled the curtain on our flight yesterday on account of fog. We just missed hitting an island off the coast while flying low and believe it one of the worst we had to contend with during our whole flight."

GET MOTHER'S GREETING

Mere Point, Maine, Sept. 6.—The first written greeting received by the world fliers at this place, where they stepped on home soil after an absence of five months, were from the mothers of Lieut. Lowell H. Smith and Lieut. John Harding. The message of thankfulness for their arrival was given the officers by the Associated Press to which the mothers of the aviators had entrusted it for delivery.

The greeting sent by wire from Los Angeles where it was signed by Mrs. Maude Smith and Mrs. Robert A. Chase Harding follows:

"We, two of the happiest mothers in all the world today, bow our heads in reverence to the Supreme Pilot who has guided our precious boys and their comrades to safety thus far. Our hearts overflow with joy and gratitude. May God still bless you until you can take you in our arms. Because we love you, we love you. Your devoted mothers."

Of all their experiences, Lieut. Smith said, fog was the worst handicap and the "the aviators' hell."

F. Dodd, an Australian agriculturist, who has been here looking for cactus-eating insects which might be transferred to Australia.

Mr. Dodd conferred with experts at the University of Arizona. Several vicious types of insects were suggested, and the visitor began experimenting with their power of destruction. The few cactus plants transplanted in Australia came from Arizona.

WOULD SERVE ON DEFENSE DAY

Fargo, N. D., September 6.—Steve Estynovitz, 24 year old Austrian, fought four years for his fatherland against the Italians in the World War. But he wants to fight with America now if the need comes.

Yesterday, he met his friend, Richard Pederson, voluntary enlistment officer for Co. F of Moorhead for National Defense Day, and asked for the chance to sign up with the company for the day. He said he wanted to show where he stood on national defense. Pederson signed him on the spot.

Meanwhile the top sergeant is mulling over Pederson's information that he had seen Estynovitz lift the rear end of a Ford touring car, unaided, as a little stunt on the Kreps farm, near Moorhead, where he is employed.

MANY CATTLE ARE FREED OF DANGER OF T. B.

Much Progress Is Made in Tuberculosis Eradication Work, Board Declares

STOCK CONDITION GOOD

Less Disease During the Past Year Than Several Others, Because of Weather

Great progress has been made during the past year in North Dakota in the eradication of bovine tuberculosis, according to the year's review of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board. The board shows that 14,284 head, comprising 23,033 cattle, were tuberculin tested during the year, 2,892 of less than one and one-half percent being found affected with tuberculosis. This is almost as many cattle tested as in all prior years combined since the campaign started, according to Dr. W. F. Crewe, executive secretary of the board.

The condition of live-stock, with respect to disease, has been generally good during the last year, according to the board's report. The mild winter of 1923-24, together with plentiful feed, aided in reducing losses in livestock industry, the losses being much lighter than for several previous years, it is stated.

During the year, however, anthrax was encountered in the state for the first time in several years. The disease broke out in Sargent county, the infection coming from South Dakota. Quarantine measures were adopted and vaccination ordered. While the disease occurred on seven farms, prompt action restricted the loss to 10 cattle, one horse and 17 hogs, it is stated.

Horses Condemned
During the year 136 horses were condemned and destroyed for glanders, these being mostly in Logan and McIntosh counties. Only two outbreaks of horse mange were reported and there were no cases of dourine.

The increased acreage of corn in North Dakota has brought about a notable increase in the number of swine on farms, and is bringing to the fore the hog cholera problem. Hog cholera occurred during the yearly period ending June 30 in eight counties in the southeastern part of the state and was found in isolated cases elsewhere. Treatment in the form of an anti-hog cholera serum is obtainable, according to the Live-stock Sanitary Board.

With regard to the eradication of bovine tuberculosis, it is declared in the board's report that the rapidly increasing dairy industry in the state makes the prevention and eradication of disease an important factor. The large amount of work in tuberculosis eradication was made possible by adopting the area plan, testing all the cattle in one county or in a township. All the cattle in four counties and in 270 townships have been tested. There are petitions on file for the testing of 30 more townships, which will be done when funds are available.

Meat packers, the report adds, emphasizing the value and importance of the work, have agreed to pay a premium of 10 cents per hundred on all hogs originating from a county established as a modified accredited tuberculosis free area.

Urges Better Cattle
"The reports of cattle tested in some of our oldest settled counties reveal rather a deplorable condition," the board's report says. "In many townships containing several hundred cattle, each, not one pure bred animal was reported. It would seem that there is great necessity for the inducement of cattle breeders to at least replace their scrub and grade bulls with pure bred sires and make their business more profitable."

"In the development of our dairy industry, it would seem great progress might be made if those taking up this work would use pure bred bulls of the dairy breeds on their native cattle and eventually establish herds with greater and more profitable production."

CONVENIENCE OF LIGHT IS TAKEN TO FARM

Dwellers in cities have been using electricity in their homes for years because of the convenience, cleanliness and safety; but it is only of late years that farmers have given this matter any consideration, says B. K.

TOES SAVE HER

Supple, vigorous dancing toes of Margaret Wood, Chicago, routed a six-foot unidentified man attacker in the darkness of her room. She was awakened by the choking claws of a man at her throat. Unable to call for help, the dancer managed to plant a heavy kick upon her assailant, the man fled, leaving his cap and handkerchief behind.

Skewels, Delco-Light dealer. As a matter of fact, the farmer can reap more benefit from electricity than the city dweller because he can make so many more applications of it. He not only needs to light his house but he must also light his barn, machine shed, hen house, hog house and other buildings and in addition to all this, he requires power for his pumping, running the cream separator, milking machine, fanning mill and other farm machines. The housewife, too, has her washing, ironing, sweeping and churning to do, all of which can be done quicker and better with electricity. The lamps and lanterns are done away with entirely with a consequent reduction of the fire hazard.

The farmers who have already equipped their farms with electricity are all of the opinion that electricity on the farm pays for itself, not only in better living conditions but in a saving in time. Many farmers are increasing their income by keeping up egg production through the winter months as it is well established that a well lighted hen house will accomplish this.

A great deal of interest is being shown among farmers on this question and with the good crops being harvested, many farms will be electrically equipped this fall.

PRINCE SPENDS "NIGHT OUT"

Syn-cet, New York, Sept. 5.—The Prince of Wales spent his fourth successive night out last night and as noon approached had not left his bed room in the home of James A. Burden, his Long Island headquarters.

The last official communique concerning the Prince's movements issued last evening told of his boarding a motor launch at the estate of J. S. Cowden, and whizzing off to "somewhere on Long Island Sound" after one of his attendants had notified the Burden home that His Highness would not be home to dinner. Nothing more was known of the Prince's movements except that he returned to the Burden estate sometime between 1 o'clock and dawn.

MINNESOTANS IN PLEDGE TO AID COOLIDGE

Banquet Held at Which Former Governor Harding of Iowa Makes Speech

ISSUES ARE NOT NEW

Minneapolis, Sept. 5.—Four hundred Republicans of Minnesota, at a ratification dinner here last night pledged their whole hearted support toward the national and state tickets of the party.

Those present took a firm stand for their party's principles and candidates defeated in the June primary election ratified the nomination of the winners and offered every manner of support.

W. L. Harding, former governor of Iowa, and eight others spoke. Mr. Harding, the principal speaker of the evening, criticized the presidential candidacy of Senator Robert M. LaFollette.

Issues Not New
"The issues in this campaign are not new," Mr. Harding said. "The struggle for liberty has gone on for years. Yet in this hour, we have a man who has nominated himself, who has written his own platform and who has notified himself of his own nomination."

"Bob LaFollette is the candidate of the Socialist party. The issue in Minnesota is whether you are going to have Socialism."

"When the decline begins we'll go down rapidly. You've got to buckle on your armor and get out and fight. Not with swords, but with your interest in a sound, ideal government."

The main thing for the Republicans of Minnesota to do is to get behind their whole party ticket, he said.

Referring to the recent scandals in Washington, Mr. Harding said that personal misconduct of a few men could not be charged up to an entire party. There have been evidences of malfeasance in the ranks of Democrats and even Socialists, he said.

Three Candidates Speak
The three leading Republican candidates in the state and congressional contests of Minnesota were present and spoke. They were Congressman Thomas D. Schall, for United States senator; Theodore Christiansen, for governor, and W. L. Nolan for lieutenant governor. Three of the defeated opponents pledged their personal support and a vigorous support for the party's campaign. They were Oscar Hallam, defeated candidate for senator and Franklin E. Ellsworth and Curtis M. Johnson defeated gubernatorial candidates.

GRAND FORKS TO PLACE DAM IN RED RIVER

Held Necessary to Conserve Source of the Water Supply for the City

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 5.—With the once mighty Red River of the North so low during summer seasons and in the fall that there is danger of freezing over the intake pipes in the winter the city council of Grand Forks and East Grand Forks are taking steps toward construction of a dam which will safeguard the water supply of the cities. Present plans call for possible starting of construction of a 10 foot dam this fall. Prof. E. F. Chandler of the state university, who with J. J. Smith, Grand Forks city engineer, has investigated the situation, estimates such a dam could be constructed at a cost of from $20,000 to $30,000. Mr. Smith has been instructed to prepare estimates.

Besides guarding the water supply of the two cities, the proposed dam which would probably be located a short distance below the cities, would serve to aid in beautifying the cities, covering the barren mud lower banks and bars. Two of the

Use Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline For Perfect Motor Response

The willing start, the leap ahead, the noiseless regularity of the piston stroke, the steady purr of a satisfied engine—all these lie in Red Crown, the BETTER motor fuel.

The finer shades of Red Crown performance are due to its perfect chain of boiling point fractions. Red Crown vaporizes steadily throughout the entire stroke of the piston, thus yielding smooth and rapid acceleration and maximum mileage.

Red Crown service lies in this wide flexibility. It is an ideal fuel—it not only moves the car, but it gives the driver a sense of perfect control—a thrill of power—an exhilaration due to instant and eager response.

Red Crown service represents the ideals of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) carried into performance. It yields more power—greater economy—more mileage—manifesting in all these the aim of the Company to provide a better motor fuel.

"MAXEE" WILL DEMONSTRATE IN BISMARCK

Talking Car Feature Offered Next Week by Corwin Motor

An announcement has just been made by the Corwin Motor Co., local dealers for Maxwell that they have secured for exhibition here, the talking Maxwell, a regular standard car that can talk, see, hear, light its lights and play music and do many interesting stunts that heretofore have been impossible for a car to do.

Just what method is used has never been discovered but it must be mechanical and it would be great to have the secret discovered here in town. Thousands of people throughout the country have been mystified by the performances of this car and its scintillating displays would do justice to a college professor. It will discuss any subject fluently and talks twelve different languages. Can you imagine a car doing all of this?

This car will be shown from Sept. 8th to 10th afternoons and evenings and the general public are invited to all of the demonstrations.

When Mr. Corwin, the local Maxwell dealer was asked to make a statement, all he said was "I only know that this car will do all of these stunts, but don't know how it is done and would be glad to discover the secret myself."

That sounds like the bunk, but time will tell so let's wait and see whether we all can reach a solution of the mystery. The married men can attend without fear for Maxee is pledged not to divulge any personal secrets during its sojourn here.

300 LABORERS ARE WANTED

Jobs for Harvest Workers Are Offered in Western North Dakota

There are jobs for 300 farm laborers in western North Dakota which may be obtained through the state free employment office here, according to H. A. Brocopp, in charge of the office.

The Parshall vicinity wants 100 harvest workers, Killdeer fifty, Steele fifty, Golden Valley fifty and there are other scattered requests for workers, he said.

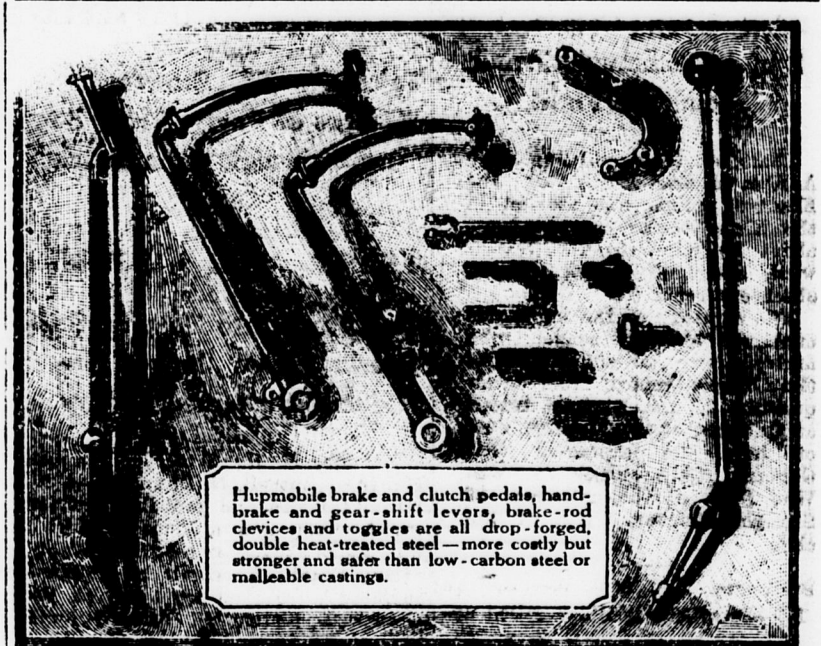

Just now few workers are coming in. Many who were in the state sometime ago failed to remain when the cold weather delayed harvest. However, Mr. Brocopp expects the situation to ease within a week, as the Red River Valley begins cleaning up threshing in various sections and men come in from the South Dakota harvest fields.

So, St. Paul, Sept. 6.—(By the A. P.)—Sharp declines in receipts at outside markets during the past week were reflected here in a rise of 10 to 25 cents on fat steers, as well as most other killing classes, says the weekly review of the United States Department of Agriculture. The only exceptions were grass steers and yearlings which still show losses of about 25 cents; the review says.

Dry lot material has been marketed in small numbers, Friday's arrival proving the best of the week, a three-pound steer of mixed yearlings selling at $10.00; others downward to $7.50. Grass killing steers topped at $7.25; bulk around $5.50 to $6.50. A spread of $3.25 to $4.25 took most cows with heifers upwards to $5.75. Canners and cutters brought $2.25 to $3.00, while bologna bulls were most frequently seen around $3.25 to $3.75. Veal calves closed the week steady to 25 cents lower, bulk cashing at $11.00 today. Broad country inquiries for all classes of feeding stock resulted in a good clearance of current supply at strong to 25 cents higher prices. Top feeders reached $7.50 and good grades cashed at $6.25 to $6.75, bulk common and medium kind $4.00 to $6.00.

Somewhat larger receipts of hogs at the seven main markets resulted in even downturns here, prices averaging from 10 to 25 cents lower for the period, all classes sharing in the loss. Top butcher hogs closed at $9.65, bulk of the desirable 160 to 300-pound weights around $9.50 to $9.60; packing hogs mostly $8.50 with feeder pigs unchanged at $7.75.

A two-way market prevailed in the sheep house, fat lambs finishing around 60 cents higher while sheep lost about the same amount. Bulk of the best natives closed at $13.00. Untrimmed sorts $12.00, culls around $8.00. Light and handyweight ewes to packers cashed at $5.50 and upwards to $6.50, and $7.00 to breeders. Cattle receipts today were 700; calves 100; hogs 800; sheep 100.

COLLEAGUES
GIVE ESTIMATE
OF LENIN

Riga, Sept. 6.—What Nikolai Lenin thought of his own co-workers is revealed in a political testament of his which, according to the Socialist-Revolutionary newspaper, has been handed by his widow to the central executive committee of the Communist party. In short sentences the late premier writes as follows about various leaders of bolshevik Russia:

Trotsky—Very gifted, but loves to pose too much. It is wrong to accuse him of leaning toward menshevism, for in reality he has always stood on the side of the bolsheviks. He can be an excellently disciplined party member.

Zinovieff—Not gifted, yearning for power. A sharp eye must be kept on him. He can become a danger to the party.

Kamenev—Vacillates. An opportunist, as was proven during the October days in 1917. He must be watched.

Stalin—Not clever, anxious to pick quarrels, a climber who strives to set himself up as dictator.

Bucharin—Not clever, a bad Marxist, knows nothing about dialectics though he likes to write about it.

Piatukov—Very gifted, but has been smothered of late by administrative work.

The testament is said to have been opened in the presence of all the persons whom Lenin undertook to describe and characterize.

SAMOANS WANT
THEIR STATUS
DEFINED

Pago Pago, American Samoa, Sept. 6.—The recommendation of Secretary of State Hughes that the sovereignty of the United States be extended over Swain's land was reported here by radio when President Coolidge sent it to the Senate. It caused surprise, and raised the question of the status of American Samoa.

Swain's Island, known as Olosea to the Samoans, lies north of Samoa. Originally it was a coral atoll and was built up by the energy of the original settlers and their descendants. Many shiploads of earth have been taken from Samoa to build up the small island and it now is very productive in coconuts. Though always connected with Samoa commercially, it had been classed as one of the Tokelau group of islands belonging to Great Britain.

Leaders among the natives of American Samoa say they want a bill passed by Congress defining the status of their country in its relation to the United States. The chiefs of Tutuila have been asking this for 21 years.

Thus far the islands are known to Congress as "the United States naval station, Tutuila." The naval station is at Pago Pago and the country outside, though styled part of the station for some purposes, has nothing to do with it in other respects, and this had led to confusion.

Sharp Decline in Receipts at South St. Paul Aids the Price Situation

So. St. Paul, Sept. 6.—(By the A. P.)—Sharp declines in receipts at outside markets during the past week were reflected here in a rise of 10 to 25 cents on fat she-stock, as well as most other killing classes, says the weekly review of the United States Department of Agriculture. The only exceptions were grass steers and yearlings which still show losses of about 25 cents, the review says.

Dry lot material has been marketed in small numbers, Friday's arrival proving the best of the week, a three-load string of mixed yearlings selling at $10.00; others downward to $9.00 with short fells on down to $7.50. Grass killing steers topped at $7.25, bulk around $5.50 to $6.00. A spread of $3.25 to $4.25 took most cows with heifers upwards to $5.50. Canners and cutters brought $2.25 to $3.00, while bologna hams were more frequently seen around $3.25 to $3.75. Veal calves closed the week steady to 25 cents lower, bulk cashing at $11.00 today. Broad country inquiries for all classes of feeding stock resulted in a good clearance of current supply at strong to 25 cents higher prices. Top feeders reached $7.50 and good grades cashed at $6.25 to $6.75, bulk common and medium kind $4.75 to $6.00.

Somewhat larger receipts of hogs at the seven main markets resulted in even downturns here, prices averaging from 10 to 25 cents lower for the period, all classes sharing in the loss. Top butcher hogs closed at $9.65, bulk of the desirable 160 to 300-pound weights around $9.50 to $9.60, packing sows mostly $8.50 with feeder pigs unchanged at $7.75. A two-way market prevailed in the sheep, but lambs finishing around 50 cents higher while sheep lost about the same amount. Bulk of the best natives closed at $13.00. Untrimmed sorts $12.00, culls around $8.00. Light and handweight ewes to packers cashed at $5.50 and upwards to $6.50, and $7.00 to breeders. Cattle receipts today were 700; calves 100; hogs 800; sheep 100.

Riga, Sept. 6.—What Nikolai Lenin thought of his own co-workers is revealed in a political testament of his which, according to the Socialist-Revolutionary Whistler, has recently been handed by his widow to the central executive committee of the Communist party. In short sentences the late premier writes as follows about various leaders of bolshevik Russia: Trotsky—Very gifted, but loves to pose too much. It is wrong to accuse him of leaning toward menshevism, for in reality he has always stood on the side of the bolsheviks. He can be an excellently disciplined party member.

Zinovieff—Not gifted, yearning for power. A sharp eye must be kept on him. He can become a danger to the party. Kamenev—Vacillates. An opportunist, as was proven during the October days in 1917. He must be watched. Stalin—Not clever, anxious to pick quarrels, a climber who strives to set himself up as dictator. Bucharin—Not clever, a bag Marxist, knows nothing about dialectics though he likes to write about it. Piatakov—Very gifted, but has been smothered of late by administrative work.

The testament is said to have been opened in the presence of all the persons whom Lenin undertook to describe and characterize.

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 6.—Mrs. Dollie Gardner, who carried to Washington her fight to induce federal authorities to permit an operation on the brain of her husband, Roy G. SAMOANS WANT
THEIR STATUS
DEFINED
Pago Pago, American Samoa, Sept. 6.—The recommendation of Secretary of State Hughes that the sovereignty of the United States be extended over Swain's land was reported here by radio when President Coolidge sent it to the Senate. It caused surprise, and raised the question of the status of American Samoa.
Swain's Island, known as Olosega to the Samoans, lies north of Samoa. Originally it was a coral atoll and was built up by the energy of the original settlers and their descendants. Many shipwrecks of earth have been taken from Samoa to build up the small island and it now is very productive in coconuts. Though always connected with Samoa commercially, it had been classed as one of the Tokelau group of islands belonging to Great Britain.
Leaders among the natives of American Samoa say they want a bill passed by Congress defining the status of their country in its relation to the United States. The chiefs of Tutuila have been asking this for 24 years.

Thus far the islands are known to Congress as "the United States naval station, Tutuila." The naval station is at Pago Pago and the country outside, though styled part of the station for some purposes, has nothing to do with it in other respects, and this had led to confusion.

ROMAN ARMOR UNCOVERED
BY PLOWMAN
Karagatch, Bulgaria, Sept. 6.—A peasant plowing near this village turned up one of the most interesting archeological finds made in recent years. When the plow struck an obstruction the peasant found it was a slab of marble. Lifting this a marble tomb was disclosed and within lay a suit of bronze armor of a Roman knight, together with shield, sword, spear and several utensils, including an exquisite vase.
The find dates back to the pre-Alexandrine period. They surmise that he may have been a dweller of a Hellenic colony on the Black Sea coast.
On the helmet, well preserved, and of a high order of workmanship, were the figures of Apollo, Pallas Athene, Poseidon, Minerva and Mars. One ear-piece found bore the figure of Zeus with the trident. The other ear-piece was lacking.
The helmet was silvered, and some of the white metal still adhered. The human figure that once bore the helmet and carried the weapons was entirely absent, except in the form of ashes in small amount.
"The knight who bore the armor was evidently a high personage," said Director Velkoff. "Therefore, after his body had been deposited in the grave it was burned, an early instance of cremation."

STARK FAIR OPENS TUESDAY
Dickinson, Sept. 6.—Arrangements have been completed for the opening on Tuesday of the third annual Stark county agricultural fair, which will continue for three days. Entries in the livestock department, especially cattle, are expected to be unusually fine and complete. On the third day a stock parade will be held. All stock judging will have been finished by that time, and everyone will have an opportunity to see the winners of the blue ribbons.

The display in small grains, in fruits and vegetables will be much larger than that of last year, according to Leroy Moomaw, who is in charge of that department.
The amusement features, including a racing program, offer entertainment of a sufficient variety to appeal to all comers, the committee in charge claims. Music will be furnished throughout the fair days by the newly organized Dickinson band, under the leadership of Prof. John Vecchi.

FUR HUNTERS
PUSH NORTH TO MEET NEED
St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 6.—The hunt for fur is extending northward year by year, according to officials of the great fur companies operating from this city to the Labrador Coast and into Hudson's Bay. Each season, they say, new posts are opened to widen the field of the pelt hunter northward into the Arctic.
The Hudson's Bay Company and Reichen Brothers, the "old" company and the "new", already have dispatched their steamers on their annual tour of the northern posts.
All the way up the coast of Labrador and into Hudson's Bay are scattered fur posts which in many cases have been carrying on business with the natives for years. Gradually, company heads say, the operations have extended northward, the Hudson's Bay Company especially seeking out new fur fields. This company now has a numerous chain of posts in Baffinland and other areas north of Hudson Strait. In recent years the trading operations of both companies have been successful and the fur catches large.
Two years ago the Hudson's Bay Company undertook to establish a herd of reindeer in Baffinland with a view to augmenting the meat supply of the region. The company was encouraged in its experiment by the success of a similar project in Alaska. Instead of meeting with the success

“MAXEE” WILL DEMONSTRATE IN BISMARCK

Talking Car Feature Offered Next Week by Corwin Motor

An announcement has just been made by the Corwin Motor Co., local dealers for Maxwell that they have secured for exhibition here, the talking Maxwell, a regular standard car that can talk, see, hear, light its lights and play music and do many interesting stunts that therefore have been impossible for a car to do. Just what method is used has never been discovered but it must be mechanical and it would be great to have the secret discovered here in town. Thousands of people throughout the country have been mystified by the performances of this car and its sensational features would do justice to a college professor or it will discuss any subject fluently and talks twice different languages. Can you imagine a car doing all of this?

This car will be shown from Sept. 8th to 10th afternoons and evenings and the general public are invited to all of the demonstrations.

When Mr. Corwin, the local Maxwell dealer was asked to make a statement, all he said was “I only know that this car will do all of these stunts, but don’t know how it is done and would be glad to discover the secret myself.”

That sounds like the bunk, but time will tell so let’s wait and see whether we all can reach a solution of the mystery. The married men can attend without fear for Maxee is pledged not to divulge any personal secrets during its sojourn here.

300 LABORERS ARE WANTED

Jobs for Harvest Workers Are Offered in Western North Dakota

There are jobs for 300 farm laborers in western North Dakota which may be obtained through the state free employment office here, according to H. A. Bracopp, in charge of the office.

The Parshall vicinity wants 100 harvest workers. Killdeer fifty, Steele fifty, Golden Valley fifty and there are other scattered requests for workers, he said.

Just now few workers are coming in. Many who were in the state sometime ago failed to remain when the cold weather delayed harvest. However, Mr. Bracopp expects the situation to ease within a week, as the Red River Valley begins clearing up the hung in various sections and men come in from the South Dakota harvest fields.

The free employment office here will be kept open during September.

Urge Lowden Be Appointed On Commission

Washington, Sept. 6.—Appointment of Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois, as chairman of the proposed commission to investigate the needs of agriculture, has been strongly urged upon President Coolidge, it became known today with the arrival of Mr. Lowden as a weekend guest at the White House.

DR. BLACK OF HERRIN FREED

Herrin, Ill., Sept. 6.—The charge of murder issued against Dr. John P. Black of this city in connection with the killing last Saturday of six men here was dismissed today by Magistrate Abe Hicks, before whom Dr. Black appeared this morning. The charge was dismissed at his attorney’s request, who asserted there was no evidence to support the charge.

Hupmobile brake and clutch pedals, hand-brake and gear-shift levers, bumper-clevises and toggles are all drop-forged, double heat-treated steel—more costly but stronger and safer than low-carbon steel or malleable castings.

Prove These Facts Yourself

Check Up on the Things that Make Motor Car Value

Hundreds of Hupmobile Parts Displays are in our dealers’ hands. In these displays are the major units of Hupmobile construction.

So that there, before your own eyes, are the facts. Hupmobile only asks you to check these parts.

For these constitute the first and only practical, cold-steel basis for comparison.

They prove, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that value is as finely built into the Hupmobile as in any car, regardless of price.

We say this—that until and unless you find a car that equals the Hupmobile in quality of materials and fineness of workmanship, you are getting less than your money’s worth in automobile value, however pretty the other car may look.

Come in and make your own check. What you see here will convince you that no other car at anywhere near its price equals Hupmobile in the essentials that go to make a car good. Our Parts Display will prove that the Hupmobile is the car for you.

THE REPUBLICAN TARIFF POLICY

For many years the tariff has been trotted out by the Democratic party as a strong weapon of attack in political battles. The Democrats have succeeded in utilizing it effectively at times. It did so in electing Woodrow Wilson. It kept its pledge for a low tariff. Industrial depression followed in the nation and it was growing worse in 1914 when the World War altered conditions and rendered a tariff virtually unnecessary in the country for many years. Canada also has the tariff problem in politics. The present Liberal Ministry believes in a low tariff; it proceeded to enact its program into law. Depression followed. Montreal, the second greatest port in North America, has complained that the Liberal tariff is too low to maintain Canadian industrial prosperity. The Prime Minister was defending his system in Montreal when a young man interrupted. "But we are out of work, sir," he said.

Economists have presented exhaustive and varying views on the protective tariff system. But the fact remains—and it has been pretty well impressed upon the voters in the industrial regions of the nation—that prosperity has been maintained in the United States more consistently under the Republican high protective tariff than under the Democratic low tariff.

It is not argued that the high tariff system is perfect. Doubtless there are many inequalities. This situation was recognized by the Republican Congress in enacting the present tariff law, when it provided for a commission to ascertain the difference between cost of production abroad and at home at various times, and gave the president the power to alter the tariff. President Coolidge has raised the tariff on some agricultural products; it is predicted that he will lower the tariff on sugar. For the first time in the country's history it now has a flexible tariff, made possible by the Republican party. The Republican platform says:

"We reaffirm our belief in the protective tariff to extend needed protection to our productive industries. Without the strict maintenance of the tariff principle our farmers will need always to compete with cheap lands and cheap labor abroad, and with lower standards of living."

"We believe that the power of the President to decrease or increase any rate of duty in the Tariff Act furnishes a safeguard against excessive duties to be adjusted after a hearing that they may cover the actual differences in the cost of production in the United States and the principal competing countries of the world."

The Democratic platform on which John W. Davis stands, on the other hand, reaffirms the time-honored Democratic principle of a low tariff.

The tariff is not operative against every condition that obtains abroad. Within the last two years, when the German mark depreciated vastly, when German workers were being paid a few cents a day and living in squalor, Germany could still produce goods, pay the tariff and undersell American manufacturers with their better paid labor.

Many politicians believe that it is popular to assail "the robber tariff" of the Republican party. But in the past they have found it quite a difficult task to explain the situation when depression has followed the wrecking of the Republican tariff system.

HIS TROUBLES BEGIN
Magnus Johnson went to the Senate from Minnesota somewhat as an exhibition, and he appeared to enjoy exhibiting himself. Now that has passed and he must gain the limelight by merit. His troubles are beginning. Among latest obstacles presented is the report in Minnesota that the rail brotherhoods, who were active for him in the last election, are neutral as between Johnson and Schall. The Minnesota Senator may find he has to deliver the goods to stay in the Senate.

RARE
Thirty-two thousand five hundred dollars is the price placed on the most valuable canceled postage stamp in the world. It sold for 1 cent in British Guiana in 1856. Owned by Arhur Hind of Utica, N. Y., said to have the finest stamp collection in existence.

As a matter of common sense, this stamp is worth no more than any fragment of paper. Its value is in its scarcity. It appeals to "pecuniary honorific," the desire to display the ability to pay.

Similar strange cases of "value" will become increasingly common as our rapidly growing wealthy leisure class looks about to gratify its vanity by possessing the exclusive and only.

RAGS

The high-grade writing paper industry is alarmed because rags, from which fine paper is made, are no longer saved by housewives.

This nation of ours once had vast respect for the penny. Children were taught this respect in school. Sermons were preached about it. Editors encouraged it. The mighty penny, alas, has fallen into evil days. With its buying power cut in two, the penny has become a target of indifference. Economy will return as the shoe increasingly pinches. The ragman will again ply his trade.

POWER

Scientist says one pound of matter, or material, has 600,000 million horsepower locked up in its atoms.

He doubts if man will ever learn how to unlock that power. Unlocking it would be easier than handling it once it were released. Man's not ready yet for the discovery. Giving him control of atomic power would be like handing a loaded shotgun to a strong, inquisitive baby. The first and prompt result of harnessing of atomic power would be another World War.

THE RETURN OF OUR COWPUNCHERS

(Little Rock Arkansas Democrat)
American cowboys who took part in the rodeo in London have returned, but they are not the same cowpunchers that they were when they left home for Wembley to give the Brits a taste of Western life, we are told. Instead of the movie outfits which they wore upon their arrival in England, these cowboys returned wearing snappy clothes, carrying canes and even wearing monocles.

Which proves the old contention that "there ain't no town what our folks children will do." Picture, if you can, a cowpuncher of the type so luridly described by our writers of the purple sage, saying to the foreman of "Dead Man's Ranch": "Bring on your holly 'oss and blame it I fail to ride the bloomin' chunk, may I spend the rest of my days ridin' a tram!"

The North and the South pole may become friendly enough to get together some day, oil and water may mix like a politician among the voters; the old earth may change its mind and start turning from East to West; the rich and the poor may hold-ho within the next few centuries; a million other so-called impossible things may happen, but a monocle never will fit a cowpuncher, regardless of his efforts to wear one and appear at ease.

Therefore we suspect that this stuff about monocles being worn by these gentlemen savors much of the free publicity stuff.

IS THE WORLD TO EXPLODE?

(Omaha World Herald)

Dr. John Jolly of Dublin university, Fellow of the Royal Society of England, says that every hundred million years or so the earth is due for a blowup, during which period the rocks on the surface are melted, the oceans turned into steam and everything made to seeth and boll like unto present conditions on the planet Jupiter or our solar system. He figures that the next blowup may not be the last; that others may follow a few hundred million years after.

This is a disturbing theory that Dr. Jolly advances, yet many of the right scientists sometimes are. But don't worry. You'll not be here to participate, let it be either a cataclysm of fire or water. Nor are the figures given by the distinguished Dublin scientist, a hundred million years, so extreme after all, for there are other scientists who say that the earth, in some form has existed from 5,000,000,000 to 10,000,000,000 years. If the latter be true, and Dr. Jolly's figures are not at fault, there have been quite a number of blowups of the earth in the past, each of them perhaps destroying civilization as advanced and variegated as our own.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Nancy, Nick & Company." The little shop in the woods was as busy as a bee hive the next few days, getting ready for the opening of school.

All the wood children had to have new clothes. Among others were Mister Ringtail, Aunt Corn's two nephews, Coby and Coby, who had come in from the country to spend the winter with their uncle, so they could go to school and learn reading and writing and arithmetic.

"Boys," said Mister Ringtail, who was sort of a dude and liked everybody belonging to him to look nice, "you'll have to come with me today to see a good tailor. I hear that Nancy, Nick & Company are pretty good. Nick can look you over and make you two new suits apiece. One for Sundays and one for school."

"Oh, we don't like to be stylish, Uncle Ring," begged Coby. "All the fellows will make fun of us."

"Well, you're all shreds and patches now," said their uncle severely, "and I feel like making fun of you the way you are. Your skin is sticking out, and your buttons are off and you're as shabby as old shoes. My nephews must be willing to do as I say when they are at my house."

"Oh, all right, Uncle Ring," said Coby, his mouth pulled down at the corners like a wet moon. "If you say so we'll do it, but if we get all nervous and can't eat or anything you'll know it's because we ain't happy. No fellows can be happy with new clothes."

"Ha, ha! The idea!" laughed Mister Ringtail. "You boys not eat! Not eat, indeed, with a whole field of golden bantam corn right under your nose almost. And just at its best now."

"Oh, jimmies!" cried Coby, digging Coby in the ribs. "I forgot all about Uncle Ring's cornfield. 'Come on, Uncle Ring, we'll go with you and get a fittin' now. We want to go some place afterwards.'"

"All right," said Mister Coby, hunting up his cane. "Come along." "Say, Uncle Ring, does corn make you fat?" asked Coby.

"Well, it's what they feed turkeys on, or hogs or beefsteaks. Thanks giving," said Mister Coby. "So it looks that way."

"Say, Coby, I got a swell idea!" whispered Coby into his brothers' ear. "Just gimme your ear."

"My lands! Isn't that the berries!" giggled Coby. "Oh, my! What a smart brother I have!"

"What's that, boys?" asked Mister Coby, who didn't hear very well.

"What's all the fun about?"

"Oh, nothing much," said Coby. "We were just wondering how to have our new suits made. Coby wants his made pinch-back with patch pockets, but I think I like a 'nd knickers."

There Is One Beautiful Feature About This Campaign

"That is much better taste, Conny," said Mister Coby. "With a nice white collar and bow tie. If you stay with me long enough you'll learn to be nice little gentlemen."

"Sure we will, Uncle Ring," said Coby and Coby together, winking at each other.

Honestly they acted just like the Katzenjammer Kids did with the captain, I am sorry to say. They should have been smacked. At that minute they all arrived at Nancy, Nick & Company's shop where the Twins and Mister Snip Snap were working.

LETTER FROM KARL WHITNEY TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

DEAR LESLIE:
I have been wanting Alice to write you ever since our marriage. She has promised to do this from day to day, but she has become very much interested in some lessons in dramatics and dancing, and hardly gets time to eat properly, let alone to attend to any of her other duties.

I have come to the conclusion if any explanation is ever made to you, I shall have to make it.

Now I want to apologize for her act in writing that letter to your husband. I do not think Leslie, that Alice really realized what she was doing. Surely she would not do it because of those trumpery pearl beads. I have come to the conclusion, however, that in her great love of dramatizing herself she wrote this letter to your husband for the adventure in it.

On the day after her hysterical outburst before your mother and myself, I found her in the summer house crying as though her heart would break. She had a vial marked poison at her mouth. I snatched it from her just in time. She told me that in a spirit of fun more than anything else, she wrote your husband the letter telling him to ask you about the necklace.

She said she had no idea that John would be so silly as to take the letter seriously. I tried to get her to tell me just exactly what she wrote in the letter, but she had already forgotten. Her whole explanation was incoherent in the extreme, for she was sobbing hysterically all the time. At last I succeeded in calming her, but she seemed to think she could not stay in her father's house any longer.

"Take me away, Karl, take me away," she pleaded. "I don't want to stay here. I want to be alone with you. For some reason my family don't understand me, no one loves me but you. Even my own mother takes Leslie's part all the time." Of course I knew that she did not understand what she was saying, so I promised to take her away immediately.

She was a pitiful little creature, Leslie, and would not be pacified otherwise. I told her we would be married immediately. Poor child! I am very sorry for her. She has such an imagination, and she plans not only her own life but everyone else's out completely and then she is very disappointed and unhappy when it does not turn out just the way she thought it would.

I think she is sure you will never forgive her, but she loves you greatly, and it is breaking her heart. I wish you would write her, Leslie, and tell her that you forgive her. I know that you are even big enough to do that.

I hope by this time that you have explained the whole thing to your husband, and are happy and contented again. I expect you will never wear the pearls again, but I would like to have you keep them and give them to your daughter, if you should have one; if not, to your son's wife.

If you wish me to write to Mr. Prescott, I will do so with pleasure. Let me hear from you soon.

Sincerely,
KARL

IT'S A SKUNK, NEVERTHELESS

By Albert Apple

Everything is complicated, to a scientist. Celebrated Professor A. S. Eddington tells an audience (and the explanatory parentheses are our own):

"Take the simple act of my mounting this platform, which is apparently solid. I place my foot on a platform that is traveling 19 miles a second (with the revolving earth.) My body, which apparently moves easily, is sustaining (atmospheric) pressure of 14 pounds per square inch. I am hanging head downwards into space. A wind of ether at terrific speed is blowing through the interstices of my body. And the plank on which I step is not solid, but composed of millions of electrons which are constantly bombarding the soles of my feet."

Nevertheless, we hasten to add, all that's happened is that he has stepped upon a platform.

A scientist, seeing a certain little animal, will say: "It's Mephitis Mephitis, a common mammal, allied to the weasels. It can eject a very offensive secretion produced in two perineal glands."

An ordinary man, pondering all this, would say: "Nevertheless, it's only a skunk."

Science has a tendency of complicating the simple. That's what science mainly does—takes the simple, examines it and finds out how complicated it is underneath.

Plain water, to a scientist, is two parts hydrogen to one part of oxygen, in combination. Of course, he doesn't know what hydrogen or oxygen is, so where is he much better off than before he knew it by any name other than plain water?

Admittedly, scientific analysis leads to progress. But isn't science making life too complicated? Isn't it responsible for the widespread tendency of the people, to view the simplest situations as if they were complex?

The truth is right under our noses, but we fail to see it because we're looking for something hidden, mysterious, complicated. With this attitude, of expecting to find things complicated, we approach economic, political and social problems that are as simple as A-B-C to any one with common sense.

We are forever seeking bogies that don't exist—fancy names for the skunk. Look how complicated the experts have made the problem of what amounts to Germany paying damages in police court.

New York

New York, Sept. 6.—She has been starting trips to Coney Island and Chinatown several times a day for the nearly ten years and hasn't visited either place yet.

Each day the sightseeing buses come to 42nd street and Broadway. The barker steps down and invite pedestrians to ride to Coney Island or through the maze of mysteries of Chinatown.

Almost before the barker has time to finish his spiel, this woman, aging, but still attractive, climbs into a seat. Soon one or two others join her.

Then the long wait for customers begins. One by one the seats are filled and the driver makes ready for the journey.

It is then the woman who climbed aboard first, calls the guard and asks to be directed to a building. She has just remembered something important that must be attended to. Always the place she seeks is "just around the corner, lady."

"She is given a ticket for the next trip. No money ever is refunded, it is explained. But she doesn't mind. Her important matter is foremost in her mind.

For years she has been doing this. She is a professional "capper," hired to make the break in the line of those who would like to make the trips. She is hired by the sightseeing company. They follow the rule that sheep will follow a leader. They are correct in their supposition.

For three successive nights a bat has flown across the stage of a musical show which recently opened. It is taken as an omen of a long run by the superstitious performers, because the famous mystery play, "The Bat," enjoyed a long run in the same theater. Ordinarily it would be interpreted the same as rats leaving a sinking ship.

Xavier Scharwenka, a Polish composer, 75 and interested in music, recently sailed from New York after several months visit here.

"How did you like jazz music?" he was asked. "Doubtless he shook his head and confessed he never had heard 'that sort of music.'"

The police are searching for a man wearing half a shirt. The other half is held by the man he robbed.

Paris Finds Tourists From Middle Classes

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Writer

London, Sept. 6.—Somehow these Europeans who look forward to our coming and operating us from our money, can't help emitting a little sneer out of their system every now and then.

The other day a Parisian newspaper spoke of the thousands of Americans who were spending part of their summer holidays in Paris. Then it added this gracious and pretty thought:

"Many of our guests belong to the middle classes who formerly did not furnish many tourists in Europe. But the cheapness of French francs compared to American dollars has changed all that."

Every time they look at the map of the United States, British theatrical managers are filled with apprehension and British actors and actresses with anticipation and hope.

The reason for this thusness. Salaries for Theatians have never been as high in Britain as they are in America. And with dull business in the towns, the theaters have been having a correspondingly hard time over here. This is in contrast with the success of many good shows over in the United States.

And golden tales have filtered back here about the fat pay envelopes drawn in New York by Nelson Keys, Beatrice Lilley, Gertrude Lawrence, Lupino Lane and other London stage favorites.

The result is that every time a New York producer hits this burg, his table is filled with notes, letters and cards seeking an appointment to talk business.

Many of the very best and cleverest men and women on the British stage are elbowing each other in their eagerness to come over where the big audiences and the big salaries are.

"Tell me your name and I will tell you your age." A French journalist announced this not long ago to Parisian women and sent a sear into the hearts of many of them. But it wasn't as serious as it sounded.

He had simply doped out that every generation has its favorites in the Christian names it gives girl babies. Hence you can usually approximate a woman's age.

Thus, he says, most women named Martha, Helene, Marguerite or Lucie are in their thirties. Those named Simone, Colette, Denise are now finishing their school studies.

While in the primary schools and the kindergartens there are the women of day after tomorrow—named Monique, Nicole, Jacqueline.

FINED FOR DEVICE USED

The man giving the name of John Weeks, one of the carnival concessionaires who was arrested for attempting to run a gambling device, entered a plea of guilty yesterday in justice court before G. L. Olson and was fined $5.00. Weeks operated a "test of skill" in which the player dropped steel disc to cover a circular spot painted on the counter. He declared the Illinois state courts had held the device a "test of skill" and planned to fight the charge, but instead entered a plea of guilty and paid the small fine rather than be delayed in going on to Dickinson where the Siebrandt Carnival Company will appear at the Stark county fair.

Country Club Closes Dancing Parties For Year

The last regular dance of the Country Club season at the clubhouse last night was well attended. The dance also has been announced by the committee to the members as the last dance Harry Wagner would play for the club, as he is leaving for the Pacific Coast soon. The usual closing hour of the dance was extended by the officers for the last affair of the summer season.

The Country Club dances and parties, which have included teas given by the club women, have been unusually successful and have been well attended this season. More private social affairs also have been given at the clubhouse during the summer than in several previous years, and activities in this line are expected to continue for sometime, with the dining room being maintained.

The club officers believe the present season has duplicated the fine last year the club enjoyed in all respects. During the early part of the season the club officers took steps which resulted in an assurance of the permanency of the clubhouse site, which had been threatened by the rapid growth of the city in a westerly direction. They were especially anxious to keep the club in its present location, a setting declared by many out-of-town people to be the finest of any Country Club in the state, and the success of the officers in this matter added enthusiasm to the club's activities. The one of access to the club, located as it is just on the edge of the city and yet preserving all of the atmosphere of a Country Club, has been commented upon by visitors. The tennis, golf and other sports activities of the club have been varied this year and will continue during the fall months. Golf was played on the local course every month during last year.

Last year the Country Club, which is perhaps the largest in the state in proportion to the population of the city, decided to limit membership to 350. The membership was filled up quickly this year, and probably will be maintained as it is. There will be, however, officers say, some vacancies each year caused by removal from the city or similar reasons which will permit of the accession of a limited number of new members each year. Both the initiation and dues were increased last year, but are declared by officers to yet be the lowest of any Country Club in the Northwest offering complete club facilities.

Much of the success of the parties given during the summer is due to the activity of the permanent entertainment committee, headed by Mrs. E. H. Light, who was assisted by Mrs. Richard Tracy and Mrs. A. E. Brink.

Call Roll of Red Cross Nurses

On the 12th of September, 1924, on behalf of the War Department the Surgeon General of the United States Army, has asked the Red Cross to call the Roll of our Red Cross Nurses, as part of the Defense Test of all organized military groups, as well as the citizens of this country. This is the first practical test of the peace time working of the National Defense Act. It does not mean active service, it does not mean giving up your work, but it does mean that you are expected to report to the Committees under which you are enrolled, or to such other headquarters as may later be designated, either in person, by letter, telephone or telegram. No nurse need be put to any expense, beyond a two-cent stamp or a telephone call, or if she has been particularly tardy, she may need to pay for a telegram.

Each enrolled Red Cross nurse has received a letter with a questionnaire asking her to report to her nearest committee or to the central division direct. Every Red Cross nurse, every graduate nurse not enrolled, and every practical nurse, is urged to report. Mrs. H. A. Brandes secretary, will be glad to furnish any information desired. Country Club Closes Dancing Parties For Year

The last regular dance of the Country Club season at the clubhouse last night was well attended. The dance also has been announced by the committee to the members as the last dance. Harry Wagner would play for the club, as he is leaving for the Pacific Coast soon. The usual closing hour of the dance was extended by the officers for the last affair of the summer season.

The Country Club dances and parties, which have included teas given by the club women, have been unusually successful and have been well attended this season. More private social affairs, however, have been given at the clubhouse during the summer than in several previous years, and activities in this line are expected to continue for sometime, with the dining room being maintained.

The club officers believe the present season has duplicated the fine last year the club enjoyed in all respects. During the early part of the season the club officers took steps which resulted in an assurance of the permanency of the clubhouse site, which had been threatened by the rapid growth of the city in a westerly direction. They were especially anxious to keep the club in its present location, a setting declared by many out-of-town people to be the finest of any Country Club in the state, and the success of the officers in this matter added enthusiasm to the club's activities. The ease of access to the club, located as it is just on the edge of the city and yet preserving all of the atmosphere of a Country Club, has been commented upon by visitors. The tennis, golf and other sports activities of the club have been varied this year and will continue during the fall months. Golf was played on the local course every month during last year.

Last year the Country Club, which is perhaps the largest in the state in proportion to the population of the city, decided to limit membership to 350. The membership was filled up quickly this year, and probably will be maintained as it is. There will be, however, officers say some vacancies each year caused by removal from the city or similar reasons which will permit of the accession of a limited number of new members each year. Both the initiation and dues were increased last year, but are declared by officers to yet be the lowest of any Country Club in the Northwest offering complete club facilities.

Much of the success of the parties given during the summer is due to the activity of the permanent entertainment committee, headed by Mrs. E. H. Light, who was assisted by Mrs. Richard Tracy and Mrs. A. E. Brink.

Call Roll of Red Cross Nurses

On the 12th of September, 1924, on behalf of the War Department the Surgeon General of the United States Army, has asked the Red Cross to call the Roll of our Red Cross Nurses, as part of the Defense Test of all organized military groups, as well as the citizens of this country. This is the first practical test of the peace time working of the National Defense Act. It does not mean active service, it does not mean giving up your work, but it does mean that you are expected to report to the Committees under which you are enrolled, or to such other headquarters as may later be designated, either in person, by letter, telephone or telegram. No nurse need be put to any expense, beyond a two-cent stamp or a telephone call, or if she has been particularly tardy, she may need to pay for a telegram.

Each enrolled Red Cross nurse has received a letter with a questionnaire asking her to report to her nearest committee or to the Central division direct. Every Red Cross nurse, every graduate nurse not enrolled, and every practical nurse, is urged to report. Mrs. H. A. Brandes secretary, will be glad to furnish any information desired. Her telephone number is 638.

SPORTING YOUTH IS FULL OF DARE DEVIL STUNTS

Life, love, a chauffeur's uniform and the thrill of the "roaring road" are the interwoven elements of drama and subtle comedy in "Sporting Youth," Reginald Denny's new Universal starring feature which comes next Monday to the Capitol with a bag full of thrilling tricks. It is Denny's first multiple reel feature since "The Aynslym Brute," the Universal screen version of the famous Jack London novel. It represents the first of a new series of feature length productions in which he is to be starred by Universal under a new contract, to portray the spirit of the sporting youth throughout the civilized world.

The sporting youth is the youth of strenuous activities, always anxious to do something daring, whether it is racing in a five hundred horse power aeroplane, tearing up the asphalt with a motor car, or climbing endless glaciers in search of the North Pole, even though so many good poles, barber poles for example, are to be found along Main street. "Sporting Youth" is a comedy drama written by Byron Morgan, author of the famous "roaring road" stories published in the Saturday Evening Post, several of which were later filmed starring the late Wallace Reid. The action is centered around the adventures of a good looking young chauffeur who is mistaken for a famous racing driver. The chap has a hard time trying to explain the mistake and is eventually "railroaded" into the big road race. The picture is literally crammed with thrills. The big annual "Day road race" at San Luis Obispo, California, was filmed in connection with the making of the picture and several natural accidents and stories published in the Saturday Evening Post, several of which were later filmed starring the late Wallace Reid. HITTING AID TO SENATORS IN BIG FIGHT

ave Five Hitters in the .300 Class, Baseball Averages This Week Show

UTH IS SLIPPING

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Washington's flant fight to conquer the Yankees in the race for the American league championship is an interesting tale of figures reflected in the hitting averages today.

Comparison of the Yanks and nators reveal five Washington ayers hitting in the select .300 ass, while the Yankees can boast ly of four, including Ernie Jones, a utility player, who has only rticipated in 56 games. Outfielder slin leads the Senators in batting an average of .335, followed by ce with .328. Judge is hitting .7, Leibold .304, and Matthews .1.

The Yankees have their mighty th as their batting mainstay. The be, however, has shown a tenden- to slip, the latest averages, in- cluding games of Wednesday, giv- g him an average of .336, com- pared with .332 a week ago. He has taled 42 homers, Johnson is bat- ing .358, Meusel .318, and Dugan an .300.

Washington has almost reached e 200 mark in sacrifice hits and e Stanley Harris, the boy- angler, himself is credited with rty-one. Harris also is tied with s teammate Sam Rice, for the on- of running next to Eddie Collins e White Sox in stealing bases.

hey have 19 apiece, compared with r for Collins. The Washington an reached the 100 mark in thefts, mpared with 58 for the Yanks.

Johnson Leads

Walter Johnson, pitching ace of e Senators, is the outstanding itcher of the league. He is en- ying a percentage of .750, the out for him being eighteen vic- ries and six defeats.

In team batting, the Yankees ex- ill. They have gathered 1,312 hits r a total of 1,319 bases, compared ith 1,283 hits for the Senators for 192 bases. The Washington play- ers have scored 616 runs, compared ith 685 for the Yankees. In sac- ifice hitting, however, the Senators ave scored 190, compared with 163 at their opponents.

In individual batting, Jameson of leveland remains next to Ruth, ith a mark of .355. Falk of Chi- ago follows with .349, with Eddie ollins, White Sox captain, fourth ith .347.

Other leading batters: Speaker, leveland, .346; Cobb, Detroit, .343; oone, Boston, .340; Myatt, Cleve- and, .338; Bassler, Detroit, .337; Joslin, Washington, .335.

In the National league, the sensa- tional batting of Rogers Hornsby yershadows the performance of all others. The St. Louis star, when ored out of the game due to an in- ured back, was hitting .432 and go- g a terrific pace. He had accumu- lated a total of 292 hits for 326 ases, including 23 home runs. His etirement enabled Fournier of Brooklyn to gain slightly in home n honors, for Fournier increased s total to twenty-six.

Cuyler of Pittsburgh, with an av- rage of .381, continues to rank and to Hornsby. Wheat of Brooklyn s third with .376, followed by ounge of New York and Bressler of incinnati with .341 each.

Carey of the Pirates is in no dan- er of losing the base stealing hon- rs. He's leading with 37.

Other leading batters: Roush, Cincinnati, .340; Fournier, Brook- yn, .338; Kelly, New York, .328; rish, New York, .322; High, Brook- yn, .322.

Billy Evans Says

"Too bad Walter Johnson has never ad the opportunity to pitch in a world series."

For years that has been the sad ament of baseball fans and experts the country over.

Now that the Washington club is strongly in the running for the American League pennant, what about the world series chances of Walter Johnson.

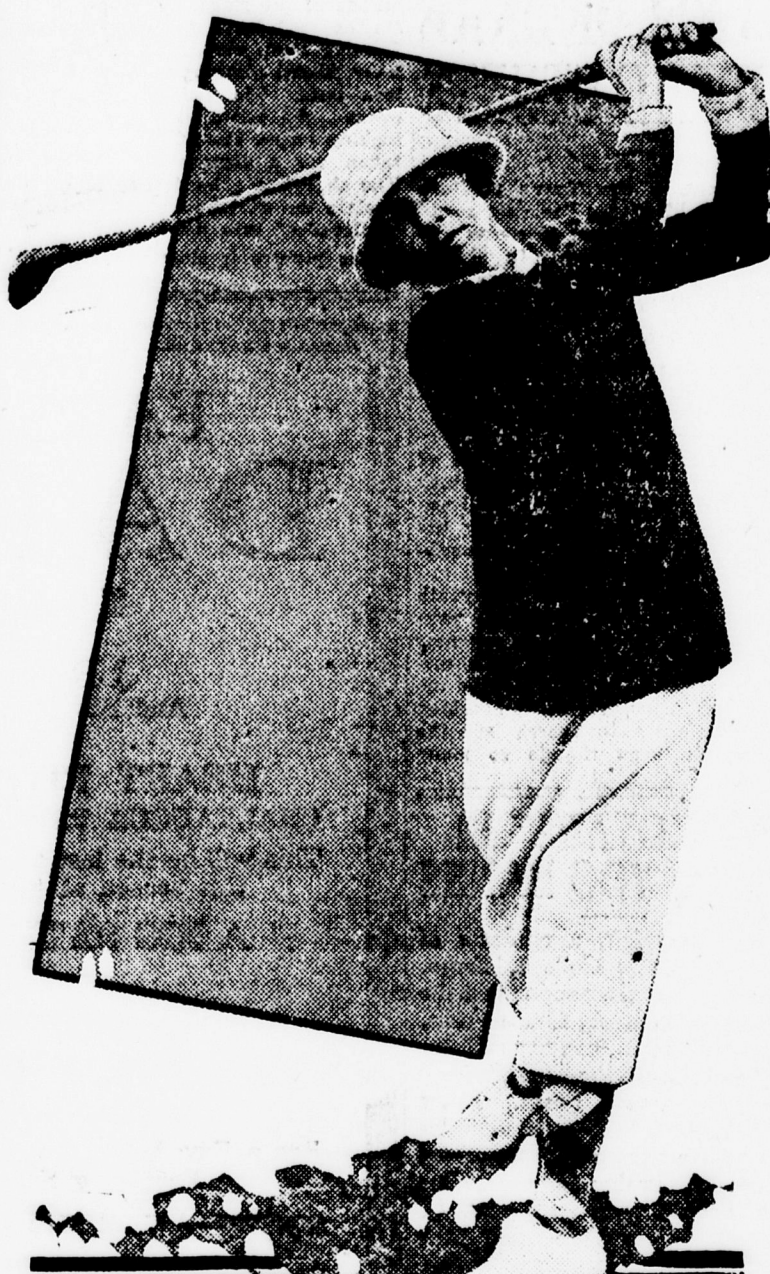

Ever since his entry into the Amer- ican League, Johnson has been noted for his terrific speed.

"You can't hit what you can't see," has for years been the theory of American League batters in ex- plaining their inability to hit John- son's fast one.

During the first two years of his career he attained fame as a big leaguer without the aid of a curve ball. Opposing batters knew they could always look for a fast one, yet found him the most difficult pitcher in the league to hit.

Later Johnson acquired a good curve, now has a deceptive change of pace, but he still tells you that the fast one is his one best bet. This, even after 18 years of campaigning in the big show.

CAN SHE REPEAT GOLF WIN?

EDITH CUMMINGS

Upstiling the dope in spectacular style, Edith Cummings came out of the west to win the women's national golf tournament last year. Will this young Chicagoan repeat this year at Providence, R. I.? The odds are against her. No woman champion has repeated in four seasons.

Johnson could have won a world series single handed.

A team looking at Johnson's great speed for the first time during that period of greatness, would have found him almost unhittable.

The lively ball was not in use at that time. This feature must be given consideration when discussing Johnson's chances in a world series.

Speed is made to order for the lively ball, if the batsman can prop- erty time the fast one. While speed, well controlled, is still a pitcher's greatest asset, it is not as dominant a factor as it was with the old style ball.

The curve and the change of pace is most necessary. Johnson boasts both and would in no way be handi- capped.

However, fans and critics in dis- cussing Johnson in relation to a world series, always had in mind his great speed.

The desire was to see what John- son would be able to do with his fast ball. The display of speed was re- garded as Johnson's punch in a world series.

I do not believe that Johnson's great speed would be as big a factor today as during the first dozen years of his career. Conditions have brought about a change, the lively ball and short fences.

Still, if Washington wins the American League pennant, count on Walter Johnson to supply some world series thrills, with his pitch- ing.

He is still a marvel after 18 years in the majors, most of the time with an also-ran club, that forced him to continually extend himself to win.

SYKESTON TO PLAY AT PEN

With a picked team of star ball tossers from the tri-county league, Sykeston has made the promise of returning home with a victory over the Grove Sluggers here Sunday af- ternoon. So this promises to be a good game, as the Grove line up will be back to its great strength for this game, with Harry Jackson playing his regular game at short. Game called at 1 o'clock.

JACK DOES SOME INTRODUCING

Jack Dempsey bashfully may deny he is engaged—but he can't get away with it among the home folks in Salt Lake City. For the heavy- weight champion and movie actor, with the renegade nose, brought Estelle Taylor, also of the movies, up with him when he dropped in for a little visit. His mother, Mrs. Celia Dempsey, met them at the depot. And after a while, Jack dropped around to see "Pa" Dempsey and the new stepmother, and duly introduced Estelle to them, also.

New York Team Takes Double Header From Philadelphia

Chicago, Sept. 6.—The New York Giants kept ahead of the fast-going Brooklyn Robins by taking two games from Philadelphia yesterday, while the Robins were taking their 14th straight victory from Boston.

Home runs marked the New York-Phillies contest. Four circuit drives, three of them in one inning, were made off Baldwin, New York pitcher, in the first game. Kelly hit a home run with the bases full and Travis Jackson did the same thing. The scores were 6 to 5 and 15 to 3. Ehrhardt, recruit pitcher from Florida, hurled Brooklyn to a 4 to 0 victory over Boston. Cincinnati took a game from Chicago, 3 to 1, Donahue out- pitching the veteran Alexander.

In the American League, Detroit took two games from Cleveland, 7 to 3 and 20 to 1. The second game established a scoring mark in the American League. Twenty runs is the largest total any team has registered in the League this season. The nearest ap- proach was on August 30 when Philadelphia defeated Boston, 18 to 3.

Reindeer To Provide Major Industry

Nome, Alaska, Sept. 6.—Extensive preparations have been made to place Alaska's reindeer industry this fall on a par with fox-raising, min- ing, fishing and sheep-raising in the territory, according to Carl J. Lo-men, president of a trading corpora- tion.

Mr. Lomen explained that despite the fact that many natives are very wealthy on paper, due to their large reindeer herds, they are nearly starving. The herds have increased to a point where they must be de- pleted. The one sure way, without waste, is to cultivate a taste for rein- deer meat, not only throughout Alaska, but in the United States and in foreign countries.

Maccabees' Head In G. O. P. Drive

MISS BINA M. WEST.

Miss Bina M. West of Port Huron, Michigan, Supreme Commander of Ladies of the Maccabees of the World and founder of the Woman's Benefit Association will be an important figure in the national campaign this fall. She is a member of the executive committee of the Republican National Committee. Closely associated with Miss West in the organization of Republican women in the state of Michigan is Mrs. Orin T. Bolt, of Muskegon, state vice chairman. Mrs. Alvin T. Bolt, vice chairman of the National Republican Committee, who has charge of the women's activities in this campaign, has issued an appeal to the Republican women of the country asking them to get every eligible Republican voter in their families to the polls registration day.

In response to this appeal Miss West and Mrs. Bolt are organizing the Republican women of the state of Michigan into clubs by towns and precincts. Through these clubs they hope to secure a complete canvass of the women of the state.

"Approximately 25% of the women eligible to vote actually voted in 1920," said Mrs. Bolt in a recent interview. "This means one out of every four. Women are out to round up 'elvie slackers' and this means men as well as women."

WATER ICES
Water ices should be frozen like ice cream, except the crank need not be turned constantly. A few turns every five minutes is enough.

PROPOSAL FOR PEACE ADOPTED BY ASSEMBLY

Geneva Meeting Votes Unanimously to Support Resolution of Two Powers

NOTABLE EVENTS

Geneva, Sept. 6.—A peace resolution drawn up by the French and British delegations was adopted unanimously by the assembly of the League of Nations this afternoon.

TAKE GREAT STEPS

Geneva, Sept. 6.—Great events which in League of Nations circles it is firmly believed are destined to affect the future of the world, including the people of the United States, occurred at yesterday's session of the assembly of the League.

France joined Great Britain in pledging support for the principle of compulsory arbitration, and, through her premier, M. Herriot, in removing the doubts of those who feared that France would hesitate to weaken her force as a great continental military power.

M. Herriot announced unequivocally that France favors an international conference on disarmament. In a calm, masterly oration, like that Premier MacDonald, of Great Britain, delivered, before the assembly Thursday, M. Herriot made the men and women present sit in rigid attention.

The premier told the world through the assembly that henceforth that nation which refused to submit disputes to arbitration would be stigmatized as an aggressor nation.

Seek American Stand

Today the one supreme topic for speculation among the delegates generally was what the reaction in the last two days in the assembly would have, on the United States. Next to definite commitments to the policy of arbitration, one thing stands out clearly—that is, that all Europe, led by Great Britain and France, now has proclaimed that it is through the League of Nations and no other body the peace of the world must be solidified. France, like Great Britain, has made it clear that the next disarmament conference must be convoked by the League of Nations, because it is considered the only body fitted and properly equipped to carry through such a conference.

FAMOUS FILM COMES HERE

"Covered Wagon," Epic of West, to be Shown

A magnificent epic of the early west is James Cruze's latest Paramount production, "The Covered Wagon," which will be the feature at the Eltinge beginning Monday next. This is a picturization of Emerson Hough's new novel of the same name, and it is said to be one of the greatest photoplays ever seen on the screen.

The features embraced in this story are many and varied and include among others, the start of 350 covered wagons from Westport Landing (now Kansas City), in 1848. The terrors of fording freshet rivers, prairie fires and the like are depicted with great realism. A buffalo hunt is one of the most exciting scenes. Old Fort Bridger with a night attack and fight by day with Indians, are shown. The dividing of the trails to Oregon and California at old Fort Hall, a touch of the gold fever in California, magnificent mountain shots and a culmination of the romance with the establishment of one of the first homesteads in Oregon—these are all incidents in a picture that bristles with big scenes.

Such historical characters as Kit Carson, Jim Bridger and Bill Jackson, scouts and typical western characters, are portrayed in the Paramount screen version of the novel, which is conceded to be one of the most notable literary achievements of the present decade.

The various roles are in the hands of well known screen players. The leading man is J. Warren Kerrigan, and the leading woman is Lois Wilson. Alan Hale is the villain. Others in the cast include Tully Marshall, Ethel Wales, Charles Ogle and John Fox. Jack Cunningham adapted the novel to the screen.

REMOVE DUST FIRST

Before washing any sort of bric-a-brac that has crevices that catch dust, remove as much dust as possible before putting it into the water.

SMOOTH PERFORMANCE

A marked smoothness characterizes the performance of Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

In keeping with the policy of constant improvement, effective measures have been taken to minimize vibration. Applied to the body, engine, clutch, brakes, and other vital units, these refinements add immeasurably to the comfort of travel over boulevards and country roads.

The effect is so pronounced, in fact, that it is entirely fitting to classify smooth performance as one of the outstanding attributes of Dodge Brothers Motor Car.
